

The German Young Geomorphologists

invite all interested young researchers in geomorphology and related fields to join the 10th international Young Geomorphologists' workshop

at Werbellinsee, Germany (~1 hour North of Berlin)

27th - 29th May 2016

The meeting will provide an ideal opportunity to present your current work, to discuss problems and receive constructive feedback! We want to highlight our interest in solving problems that occur during the empirical or writing period of your research.

Preliminary selection of events:

- Your BSc/MSc and PhD studies: oral or poster presentation and extensive discussions
- Keynote lecture on "The geophysics and geochemistry of geomorphology" by Prof. Dr. Niels Hovius (GFZ Potsdam)
- Field trip to geomorphological highlights of the surrounding area guided by Dr. Knut Kaiser (GFZ Potsdam)

The workshop fee will be ~ 35 € for full board!!! Please send the registration form to jgtreffen@googlemail.com until Friday, 15th of April!!!

Thus, save the date! And feel free to register with our mailing list (email to j.meister@fu-berlin.de) to receive updates on the meeting in May and additional activities of the Young Geomorphologists!

Speakers of the German Young Geomorphologists:

Jan Blöthe (Uni Bonn)
Andrea Junge (Uni Gießen)
Christoph Kappler (GFZ Potsdam)
Julia Meister (FU Berlin)
Karoline Messenzehl (Uni Bonn)
Veit Nottebaum (RWTH Aachen)
Steffen Pötsch (Uni Greifswald)
Anna Schoch (Uni Bonn)
Philipp Schulte (RWTH Aachen)

The Young Geomorphologists on their field trip on the Baltic Sea coast (island of Usedom) in May 2014

Please visit our webpage:
http://www.inst.uni-giessen.de/akgeom/?page_id=40

